

NanoBusiness Alliance to Present a Conference Workshop “How to Win Federal Funding for Technology Projects”

(very limited seating-- register early)

WHAT: A “value-added” conference workshop to help NanoBusiness Alliance members access federal funding available for the development and commercialization of innovative nanotechnologies. This workshop will focus on the acquisition of Small Business Innovation Research Funding (SBIR) and Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) funding available through 11 federal agencies. SBIR is, BY FAR, the most advantageous entrée into major federal contracting ever devised. This event will help you position for that as well as win R&D funding.

Attendees will receive in-depth information regarding how to win, and strategically employ, this very special funding. The workshop leader will be John Davis, General Manager of the SBIR Resource Center®, America’s leading provider of business development resources to the SBIR community. Davis, a nationally recognized expert on this subject leads at least 20 SBIR workshops/events annually -- and this one is considered to be SBIR’s best -in-class event.

Your satisfaction with the value received is 100% guaranteed, or money bill be returned.
